SAFE-ZONE

SAFE-ZONE EXPORT CONTROL:
BRIDGING TRADE COMPLIANCE WITH TECHNOLOGY

Overview:
Safe-Zone stands at the intersection of technology and international trade. Famed for export control systems and KYC expertise, our platform harnesses machine learning and AI to simplify international trade, especially for dual-use and munition items. From governments to businesses, Safe-Zone's solutions seamlessly bridge regulatory mandates with commerce.

Vision:
Our goal is more than compliance; we strive for a redefined international trade landscape - one that is transparent, efficient, and forward-looking, where businesses deeply understand their product classification (Both HS Code & ECCN/
EU-LISST/ SCOMET etc) and clientele/supply chain through advanced KYC protocols (Such as US, UN EU, GB Sanction lists).

Current Landscape:
As governments heighten transaction surveillance and international entities intensify sanctions, the compliance net broadens. Beyond exporters, importers, and manufacturers, the UN Security Council (UNSC) Resolution 1540 designates financial institutions as "facilitators" in dual-use trade dealings. Additionally, the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) has enhanced its scope, incorporating Countering Proliferation Finance (CPF) screening into its established AML and CTF frameworks, affecting banks, insurers, NBFCs, venture capitalists, and financial consultants.

Extraterritorial Nature of Laws:
American regulations, particularly the Export Administration Regulations (EAR), govern not only entities within the U.S. but every person and entity globally that deals with American origin products. These regulations oversee dual-use products—civilian products that, due to specific performance criteria, fall under the U.S. dual-use list.
